At this home's heart is a kitchen that celebrates a close connection to nature.

INTERIOR DESIGNER BRIAN STEENDYK OF STEENDYK

"The 'treehouse' kitchen is the hub of social interaction between the indoor and outdoor rooms of this residence. Glass doors slide away connecting the kitchen to the colonnade and the sunken courtyard. At the core of this sustainable design is the idea that lifestyle can be enhanced when engaging our global responsibility to our environment. Recycled timber cupboard fronts, high-efficiency LED lights and appliances, stainless-steel benchtops, and concrete floors were utilised in this kitchen's clean-lined and timeless composition."
